REGISTRATION OF ENEMY ALIENS

Uncle Sam's round-up of enemy aliens begins next Monday morning and continues until 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Police Chief Thomas E. Browning will be in charge of the registration in Ogdén. On other parts of the county, the postmasters will have direct supervision. It is estimated that Weber county has approximately 250 enemy aliens.

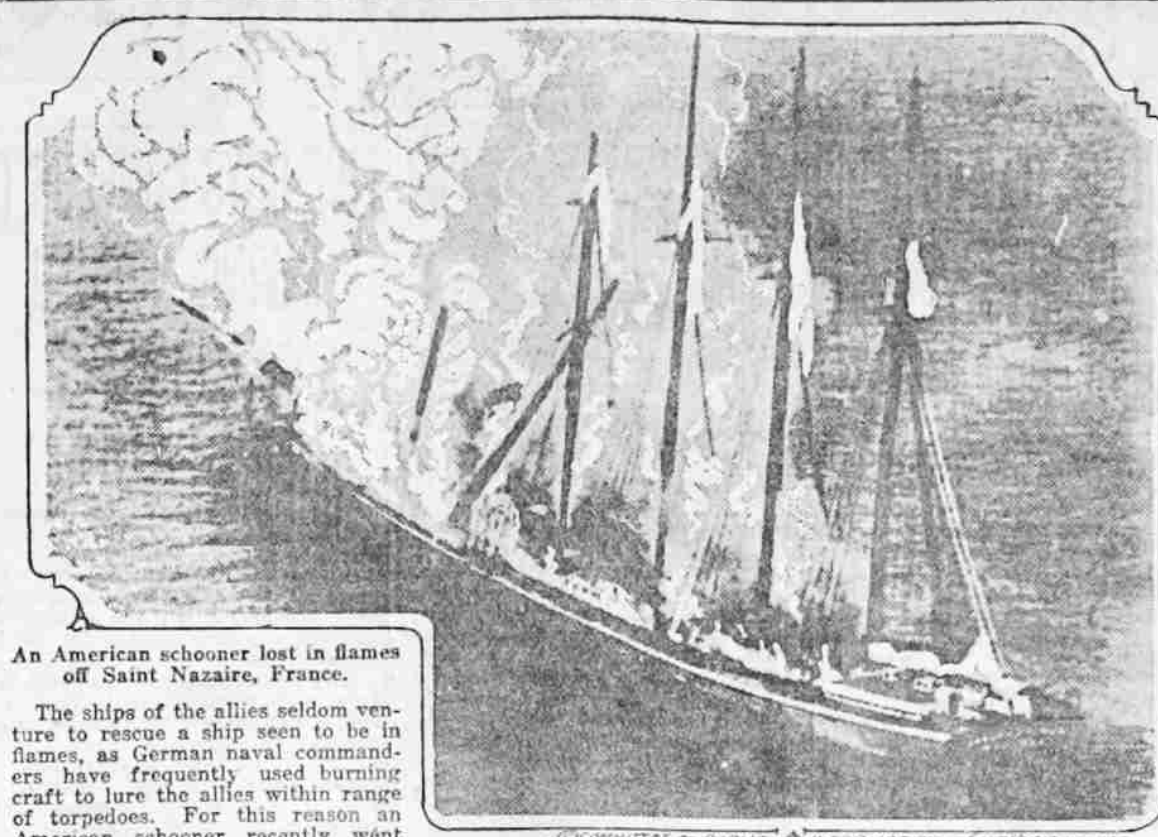

Each resident holding allegiance to the Kaiser will be expected to appear at the police station and register his age, occupation, residence and other data. He also will be compelled to submit to having finger prints taken and must file a series of four 3 by 3 unmounted photographs. Those who do not voluntarily appear will be compelled to do so. The police chiefs and postmasters have been instructed by the department at Washington to see that every enemy alien registers and they will obey the orders to the letter. It is understood that the local police department already have a complete list of those affected by the ruling.

U. P. OPERATORS COMPLAIN OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 1.—A committee representing the telegraph operators who performed the additional duties of station agents is at Union Pacific headquarters to present their claims for an increase in wages. The station agent operators contend that practically all other classes of railroad employees have had their wages increased during the last year or so and that they have been overlooked. These men are not affiliated with any of the labor unions.

AMERICAN SCHOONER BURNS OFF COAST OF FRANCE

An American schooner lost in flames off Saint Nazaire, France.

The ships of the allies seldom venture to rescue a ship seen to be in flames, as German naval commanders have frequently used burning craft to lure the allies within range of torpedoes. For this reason an American schooner recently went down in flames off Saint Nazaire.

THIS FAMILY IS DOING ITS FULL PART IN THE WAR

Sergeant Fred Burnett of the British and Canadian recruiting mission, who lost his left eye on the Somme ridge, comes of a family which has left nothing undone to aid the Dominion in prosecuting the war. The sergeant is in Ogdén enlisting Canadian and British subjects.

He is one of a family of eight, seven now, and all who were old enough are in the army or have tried to join. The sergeant's youngest brother, Harry Burnett, age 20, was killed October 30, in France, the word reaching Sergeant Burnett November 15. "Until that time," he says, "I did not care whether I got any more war or not. But when Harry was killed I would have enlisted a hundred times over, if I could have done any good."

But the story. There are Mr. and Mrs. Burnett and six children in the family. David D. Burnett, head of the household, is 58 years of age. Fred had volunteered from the home town, New Westminster, B. C., and had been sent back home, severely wounded. He had found his father determined to enlist and tried, by arguments taken from his personal observations, to convince him that he would stand no show of acceptance, but in vain. Daddy Burnett offered himself, did everything but lie outright to get in the service and then only after exhausting every resource.

That accounts for one. John T. Burnett, aged 37 years, is a sergeant major of the 104th regiment, New Westminster fusiliers of Canada.

That accounts for two. Wilson Burnett, aged 30 years, enlisted, took sick, underwent an operation and was sent back home in honor.

That accounts for three. Sergeant Fred Burnett enlisted, was wounded, and now is back in Ogdén. His complete history will be told in the Standard later.

That accounts for four. Harry Burnett is the fifth. He fought manfully in France until the Boche clicked him and now he is sharing the soil with hundreds of other heroes in that overseas country.

Now there are two left in the Burnett family but they are only youngsters. Sergeant Burnett has a list of all unnaturalized British and Canadian subjects in Ogdén. He stated today that he would like all, between the ages of 21 and 31, to call on him at the local army recruiting office and talk over their prospects, with a view to entering the army. The sergeant added that, in case they did not call, they would probably be visited.

INCOMES AND HOW TAX IS FIGURED

Every unmarried person earning more than $1,000 during the last year, and every married person or head of a family who made more than $2,000 must file with the internal revenue collector of his district a report any time before March 1. He will be notified before June 1 of the tax due, and payment will be due by June 15.

The government expects to receive $1,201,000,000 from income taxes before July 1, including $666,000,000 from individuals and $535,000,000 from corporations. This is more than one-third of the $2,400,000,000 estimated receipts under the war revenue act passed by Congress at the last session.

From excess profits taxes, the government expects to realize about $1,220,000,000 before July 1.

The rate of tax for a married man or the head of a family is 2 per cent on the amount of his net income exceeding $2,000, but less than $4,000, and 4 per cent on the amount of his net income above $4,000, but less than $5,000. An unmarried person not the head of a family will pay 2 per cent on the amount of net income above $1,000 but less than $3,000, and 4 per cent on the net income above $3,000 but less than $5,000.

An extra levy, or surtax, in addition to the normal tax, is imposed on incomes above $5,000, so that the amount of income between $5,000 and $7,500 is subject to a total income tax, including both normal and extra, of 5 per cent; and between $7,500 and $10,000, 6 per cent. The surtax further increases with higher incomes, so that amounts of $10,000 are taxable at 65 per cent with one per cent additional for each half million up to two million dollars. All incomes over the latter amount are taxable at 67 per cent.

Typical income tax levies on heads of families are as follows: Income of $2,500, tax is $10; income of $3,000, tax is $20; income of $3,500, tax is $30; income of $4,000, tax is $40; income of $4,500, tax is $50; income of $5,000, tax is $60; income of $5,500, tax is $70; income of $6,000, tax is $80; income of $6,500, tax is $90; income of $7,000, tax is $100; income of $7,500, tax is $110; income of $8,000, tax is $120; income of $8,500, tax is $130; income of $9,000, tax is $140; income of $9,500, tax is $150; income of $10,000, tax is $160.

Unmarried persons would pay in this way: Income of $1,500, tax is $10; income of $2,000, tax is $20; income of $2,500, tax is $30; income of $3,000, tax is $40; income of $3,500, tax is $50; income of $4,000, tax is $60; income of $4,500, tax is $70; income of $5,000, tax is $80; income of $5,500, tax is $90; income of $6,000, tax is $100; income of $6,500, tax is $110; income of $7,000, tax is $120; income of $7,500, tax is $130; income of $8,000, tax is $140; income of $8,500, tax is $150; income of $9,000, tax is $160; income of $9,500, tax is $170; income of $10,000, tax is $180.

Taxes may be paid in four installments between now and June 15, if this arrangement is preferred, but the treasury will open a determined campaign soon to encourage persons to pay their tax in full immediately, and receive interest on the advance payment.

About 7,000,000 persons will pay income taxes, it is estimated, and most will be subject to a direct federal tax for the first time, for less than 500,000 paid income taxes last year under the old law. Tax return forms have been made as simple as possible, those for incomes of less than $5,000 being especially free from technical features or inquisitorial items.

Corporations will pay income taxes also, but on a different basis. Their net income is subject to a tax of 6 per cent, under the new war revenue act, and certain technical deductions are allowed. Corporation returns are due between Jan. 1 and March 1, for the calendar year 1917, and companies operating on a fiscal year basis must report within 60 days after the end of the fiscal year.

Excess profits returns for the year 1917 will be received from corporations, partnerships and individuals. The last date for the filing of these is March 1, the same as on income returns, and payment must be made also before June 15, except under the fiscal year arrangement.

Individuals making more than $5,000 during the last year also are subject to an 8 per cent tax on their income above that amount, independent of the regular income taxes. This 8 per cent levy is imposed on individuals with no capital, or with only nominal capital, such as professional men with money invested in books, dentist and physicians' instruments, or other equipment.

Another kind of tax is laid on excess profits of businesses having invested capital. On this basis, taxes on net incomes or profits in excess of certain deductions are at the rate of 20 per cent of the amount of net income in excess of the deduction and not in excess of 15 per cent on the invested capital; 25 per cent on the amount in excess of 15 per cent and not in excess of 20 per cent; 35 per cent on the amount in excess of 20 per cent and not in excess of 25 per cent; 40 per cent on the amount in excess of 25 per cent and not in excess of 30 per cent; and 60 per cent on the amount in excess of 30 per cent.

Before a tax is levied on excess profits, for 1917, a business is permitted to make the same percentage of profit on its invested capital that it made on its invested capital during 1911, 1912 and 1913, the so-called "war" period, providing this is not more than 9 per cent, and $3,000 additional for a corporation or $6,000 for a partnership or individual. These are the deductions which are not taxable.

Definitions of terms, particularly the items making up "invested capital," have been made in a number of recent regulations issued by Commissioner Roper.

Excess profits taxes and income taxes may be imposed on the same earnings, if they are sufficiently high. The law specifies, however, that the amount of tax payable under the excess profits provision may be deducted from gross income, before determining the net income on which income taxes are paid.

LOST SHEEP FOUND. OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 1.—William Gist, rancher, rightful owner of the seven carloads of sheep that disappeared from Winamucca, Neb., and which was traced to the South Omaha market arrived here to take charge of the shipment. G. W. Allen and Charles Brown, alias C. R. Brown, who are held in the county jail charged with the theft of the $20,000 shipment, will be taken back to Nevada.

Gist, says that the seven carloads were "cut" from a large flock feeding in the hills 150 miles from Winamucca. They were herded to a loading station, placed on cars and started on their journey to this city. All this being done without the owner being aware of the fact.

Both Allen and Brown deny any attempt at theft.

GERMAN PEOPLE NOW STARVING

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Feb. 2.—Opinion that unless the war ends within the year 1918, there will be a revolution which will overthrow the Hohenzollerns in Germany was expressed by the Rev. Aloysius Daniels of Hewitt, Wis., upon his arrival here today from Germany by way of Switzerland.

"The people of Germany are starving," said Mr. Daniels, "who for three years has been studying in Westphalia. There are few left who are more than 50 years old, all succumbing to lack of nutrition while the death rate among children is frightful."

"President Wilson is anathematized throughout the empire, but hardly worse than is the emperor, while what is said openly of the crown prince is not fit to repeat."

"I believe they will quell this incipient revolution, but there will be another unless the war ends before next year and that one will be the end of the Hohenzollerns. The Germans are tragically short of all sorts of food."
